

Every year DWP places around 4000 customers into work with the armed forces but there is still significant opportunity to increase those numbers

The Royal Navy is looking for individuals who have an interest in a job in engineering which offers more than working in their local garage. Individuals will be trained to work with the latest equipment in order to keep Warships and other vessels in operation.

Age-16 years to 34

Gender- Opportunities are open to both male and female applicants.

No qualifications are required

Action: Please promote these opportunities to customers looking for a career in the Armed Forces or in the Engineering sector. Applications are submitted on line <http://www.royalnavy.mod.uk/careers/joining/get-in-contact>