

Travel, adventure, friendships, challenges, knowing you're doing something really worthwhile – a career with the Royal Navy offers you more than any job you'll find in civilian life. The same goes for the training you'll receive, which starts the day you join and continues right through your time with us.

What apprenticeship roles are available?

We have multiple apprenticeship programmes to choose from, so you can find a role that suits your skills and ambitions. What gives them the edge over civilian apprenticeships? You'll have a competitive salary in your pocket from day one, travel the world, make a difference, shape the career you want – and get further, faster.

- Personnel Logistician Administrator
- Air Engineering Technician
- Marine Engineering Technician
- Weapons Engineering Technician
- Undergraduate Apprenticeship Scheme (UGAS (MESM/WESM))
- Aircraft Handler / Aircrewman / Aircraft Controller (Naval Airman)
- Advanced Apprenticeship Scheme (AE, ME, WE)
- Medical assistant
- Communication Technician
- Warfare Specialist
- Physical Training Instructor (Inflight candidates only)
- Personnel Logistician Administrator
- Royal Marines Commando
- Royal Navy Diver
- Seaman Specialist
- Hydrography and Meteorology Specialist
- Chef
- Steward (Hospitality)
- Supply Chain Logistician

Applications can be made via <https://www.royalnavy.mod.uk/careers/levels-of-entry/royal-navy-apprenticeships>